Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 01 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy start, although some brighter conditions likely later, especially southeast.

Today:
Cloudy start and dry for most. Some cloud breaks developing through the afternoon, most frequent towards the south and east. Best of the sunny spells are likely across Kent and Sussex. Coastal parts remaining breezy however. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying dry overnight. Clear spells will become limited, however, as cloud thickening again, especially across northern parts and after midnight. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Thursday:
Rather cloudy start but dry. Cloud then breaking and thinning with some brighter intervals, and the odd sunny spell then developing. Best of the sunshine in the southwest. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Another cloudy start Friday, but brighter spells later. Little change Saturday, although winds strengthening through the day. Dry windy morning Sunday, but scattered showers possible later. Rather cool throughout.
